AI-Assisted Work Disclosure:

Artificial intelligence (AI) was used during the brainstorming stage to generate and explore possible organic compounds that could be selected as subjects for this infographic. AI was also used to assist in generating some of the initial information and ideas presented. However, the information used in the final infographic was independently reviewed, double-checked, and verified by me using reliable online sources and published studies to ensure its accuracy and relevance. The final selection, organization, interpretation, and presentation of the content were done by me.
